Encourage informed decision making. What is safe, help deny options and explain how benefits will contribute to the overall success of their careers or that of their students.

Parents or careers may seek advice from school counselors or other avenues.

Trouble at school or just feeling down, a student might benefit from confidential counseling services available from other avenues such as medical professionals or social workers.

Students, students, students, students, students.

School counselors work with students, parents, and teachers to ensure that all students are safe and free from violence and discrimination.

Every government school has access to a school counselor or district guidance officer. In addition, school counselors coordinate a team of school counselors to better meet the needs of their students. School counselors are members of school teams with the support of school counselors and parents.

District guidance offices also provide school counseling and in addition, coordinate a team of school counselors to better meet the needs of students.

They work with students of all ages and their families. School counselors are experienced teachers who have a degree in psychology and postgraduate qualifications in school counseling. School counselors are experienced teachers who have a degree in psychology and postgraduate qualifications in school counseling. They work with students of all ages and their families. School counselors are experienced teachers who have a degree in psychology and postgraduate qualifications in school counseling.